

TRANSIT INSURANCE

International transport of goods is fraught with operational dangers whereby cargo can be damaged, pillaged, lost, destroyed or deteriorate during transit. Insuring your goods against such risks is a wise commercial decision should the unexpected circumstances occur where your goods face such situations.

The Invoice terms for the shipment will determine which party is responsible for the Transit Insurance (See Incoterms 2000).

L.C. Loynes & Associates can arrange Transit Insurance through our Underwriters who specialise in marine/overseas insurance providing:-

Insurance covering loss and/or damage during the movement of cargo to or from any port or place in Australia or New Zealand.

Sendings can be by Sea, Air or within Land.

Policies are tailored to suit individual Insured's needs with single transit or annual coverage available.

Coverage can be provided for all risks or named perils basis

Our Underwriters have personnel in locations worldwide with hundreds of years experience in this field.

The experience and worldwide network of our Underwriters and their Claims Personnel assure our clients of prompt service of the highest calibre
